

Libya fiber optic cable interruption

In September, LPTIC announced the gradual return of telecommunications services in eastern Libya. This is after an hours-long interruption, due to the severance of an optical fiber cable, ...

The outage was caused by fiber-optic cables being severed Tuesday, Libya's state-owned telecommunications company said.

The company said in a statement, that the impact on Internet services on the submarine cable is due to an interruption in the optical fiber paths of the ...

A day-long communication outage in a flood-stricken city in ...

The national Libyan Post Telecommunications & Information Technology Company (LPTIC) attributed this disruption to a cut to fiber optic cables, before subsequently announcing the ...

A day-long communication outage in a flood-stricken city in eastern Libya has further complicated the work of teams searching for bodies under the rubble and at sea.

A daylong communication outage in the flood-stricken city of Derna in eastern Libya has further complicated the work of teams searching for bodies under the rubble and at sea.

Communications were severed Tuesday to the flood-hit Libyan city of Derna and journalists were asked to leave, a day after hundreds protested against authorities they blamed for ...

Badiri added that the company had no details about the reasons for damage caused to the fiber optic cables and whether it was the result of digging ...

Badiri added that the company had no details about the reasons for damage caused to the fiber optic cables and whether it was the result of digging or deliberate sabotage, stressing that ...

Libya's state-owned telecommunications company says the outage began when fiber-optic cables in eastern Libya were severed Tuesday. Internet and phone service were knocked out, ...

The company said in a statement, that the impact on Internet services on the submarine cable is due to an interruption in the optical fiber paths of the service provider in Italy.

Libya fiber optic cable interruption

Web: <https://www.safireschools.co.za>

